YEAR IN REVIEW

The Netherlands boasts a vibrant film industry with an open attitude towards international co-production. It has a successful track record in the production of feature films for children and of feature-length documentaries. From the perspective of box office performance, admissions and international acclaim, 2012 proved a successful year for Dutch film domestically and abroad.

The year 2012 showed an increase, be it small, in the total number of visitors to Dutch cinema from 30.5 million to 30.6 million. This accounted for gross box office revenues of € 244.6 million (€ 4 million more than the previous year). After the record year 2011 with 22.38% the domestic share in admissions reached 15.8% in 2012. During the first half of 2013 the domestic market share in admissions climbed again to 17.4%.

However, production activity in 2012 dropped in comparison to 2011. Also non-theatrical revenues showed a decline due to a drop in sales and rental of DVD/Blu Ray.

The total value of DVD and Blu Ray sales dropped again this year while VOD and PPV are starting to rise. The latter two already amounted to € 72m turnover, an increase of 35%. DVD/Blu Ray sales combined dropped with 18% and DVD/Blu Ray rentals dropped 37%. The difference between the value of non-theatrical turnover (historically much higher than the box office) of € 300m compared to the theatrical turnover of € 245m is decreasing.
