DVD, Blu-ray and online markets

Overall consumer spending on film and television series on physical carriers decreased by 23,3 per cent in units. 5,1 million fewer products were sold in 2013 compared to 2012. The total turnover of DVD decreased by 23.5 per cent and Blu-ray (BD) by 21,7 per cent. Sales of DVD and BD were at an all-time low of EUR 172,4 million. The average price of DVD and BD decreased slightly to EUR 10 for a DVD and EUR 16 for a BD.

After television providers such as Ziggo, KPN and UPC paved the way for video on demand (VoD), further growth in the online segment was created with the arrival of Netflix in the Netherlands. In 2013, an increase of 23 per cent in VoD/online turnover led to a total of EUR 88,5 million. However, the total video market decreased by 12,4 per cent.

Surprisingly, in 2013 the best-selling title on DVD/BD was the same as in 2012: the French film "Les Intouchables". In the top three for both DVD and BD were "James Bond - Skyfall" and "The Hobbit - An Unexpected Journey". Five Dutch titles are in the top five of best-selling physical products.

Other relevant developments

In the Netherlands, the number of cinema visitors rose to 30.8 million, an increase of 0.8 per cent compared to the previous year. The most popular film was "Despicable Me 2".

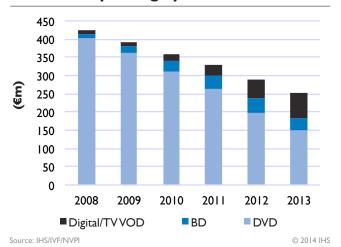

The Dutch anti-piracy organization BREIN took 510 illegal sites off line. One site was blocked by access providers, The Pirate Bay – the appeal of this decision is still pending – and BREIN has removed 206 proxies. After notifications by BREIN, Google removed over 2.3 million search results for illegal files. In total, 780 investigations were performed of which 708 concerned online offer of infringing files.

The Dutch government continues its reflections on modernizing copyright. There have been discussions about the introduction of a fair use exception. In general, the opinion is that this would not be desirable; flexibility in the exercise of copyright within the framework of the three step test is seen as the preferred option. The opinion of the European Court of Justice in the ACI/Thuiskopie case means that downloading from illegal sources can no longer be considered legitimate private copies. This decision followed long discussions in the Dutch Parliament. The discussion has now shifted towards whether or not to target end-users in activities addressing illegal content. This is not the intention of right holders who do, however, expect some support from the government in blocking access to illegal sites.
